

Robyn
Christie just saying...

Keynotes: Robyn having her say...

After nearly four decades in a corporate environment Robyn Christie has a compelling desire to forge her own path and to "reinvest" some of the knowledge and expertise she has gathered along a successful career path that took her well beyond the glass ceiling.

Well-known to the travel industry, Robyn Christie's wealth of experience as a client, agency association representative and supplier give her powerful insights into what makes successful partnerships, combined with the ability to create positive customer experiences to drive success.

Robyn has positioned herself as a keynote speaker, an event MC, and a panel moderator covering topics relating (but not confined) to:

- Diversification
- Digitisation of an industry
- Working for global organisations in a local environment
- Gender issues
- Ageism (this is a lighthearted but relevant one)
- Communication - Selling - Presenting

"I have a story to tell and opinions to share..."

"The Silverback has left the boardroom"

"Turning data into intelligence"

"We can define it but we can't explain it"
